Competition: English Premier League

Venue: City Ground, Nottingham

Correct Score Predictions

1-0 @ 10.00

Rationale:

- Nottingham Forest have conceded just 10 goals in 14 home Premier League matches this season — the best home defensive record in the league.
- Manchester United have struggled offensively, failing to score in multiple away fixtures.
- Forest's defensive pairing of Murillo and Milenkovic has been instrumental, contributing to 14 clean sheets across all competitions.

▣ A 1–0 victory for Forest reflects their strong home defense and United’s attacking inconsistency.

2–0 @ 14.00

Rationale:

- Forest have recorded multiple 2–0 home wins this season against top-tier teams (e.g., Man City, Spurs).
- United’s defense has leaked 1.5 goals per away match on average.
- Defensive injuries or rotation could further weaken United’s structure.

▣ A 2–0 result emphasizes Forest’s growing offensive potential and United’s defensive volatility.

1–1 @ 7.40

Rationale:

- This scoreline has appeared frequently in both teams’ recent fixtures.
- United remain capable of grinding out results, even with poor attacking output.
- Forest may allow limited chances, leading to a cagey draw.

▣ A 1–1 draw reflects a balanced contest with low-scoring dynamics.
